$1200 Burglary At State Radio During Weekend

Thieves gained entrance to State Radio and TV at 1936 State street sometime between 9 p.m. Saturday and early this morning and left with $1200 to $45 small radio valued at between $1000 and $1200 by the owner, Louis Paschoff.

Paschoff reported the theft to Granite City police at 9:30 a.m. today. He said about 20 transistor type radios were taken from a showcase in the front of the well-lighted establishment, and thieves also hauled off a similar number of table model radios from a warehouse to the rear of the building.

The thief left untouched some $65 in a cash register and numerous other small but valuable electrical and electronic items. "Apparently they had a market only for small radios," Paschoff said today.

Entrance to the building was gained by forcing a west room window on the south side of the store. Paschoff said almost all of the stolen merchandise was in its original cartons. The thieves apparently left the building the same way they entered.

military, veterans' and charitable groups and others who secured names of the needy through them, can be credited for the spirit of giving and the largess which made the fare possible.

Many agencies, organizations, individuals and fraternal orders can be counted in the muster roll of those who gave Christmas baskets, children's playthings and clothing to the needy, the unemployed and the impoverished.

While the Salvation Army, with a distribution of near 400 baskets—stands high on the givers' honor roll, the agency was by no means alone in the field.

There were, importantly, the Protestant Welfare Association and the Catholic Charities, whose baskets went out last week. They and allied parishes, Too, there was the Red Cross with its special attention directed to servicemen's families and those on active duty.

Not to be overlooked, either, were the police of Madison and Venice, who came through open-handedly with 7735 gift packages of candy, fruit, cookies and other confections for the youngsters of the municipality.

Today, the givers could count their rewards in the deep-seated, personal satisfaction of having shared with others and in helping to extend the spirit and bring the good things of the Yule to others.

Warriors Off To Centralia After 86-80 Loss To Tigers

Dealt 3rd Setback By Edwardsville, Meet Benton In Tourney Wednesday

Andy Sullivan will lead his Granite City varsity basketball team into automobiles tomorrow for a trip to Centralia, hoping that the Warriors can find themselves during one of the toughest holiday prep cage tournaments.

The Redmen made too many floor mistakes to suit Sullivan here Thursday night in dropping an 86-80 Southwestern conference contest to Edwardsville despite the sparkling front line play of Frank Knight and Jim Simpson, who dumped in 53 points between them.

The surprising Tigers, showing exceptional scoring balance, trailed only once in a contest which resulted in their third conference victory and sixth straight triumph since losing the season opener to Centralia. Granite City is now 1-3 in conference play, and 4-3 overall.

Centralia is the squad Sullivan feels his players will meet if they get by Benton tomorrow night in a first-round game. The Ophians play Springfield Feitshans in a game just prior to the Granite City contest.

Knight, Simpson Ailing "Actually I think we could have taken Edwardsville. If Knight and Simpson had both been under the weather," Sullivan said.

The Warriors inched ahead by three points just before halftime but Simpson, bothered by a cold, had to be lifted when he committed his third personal.

Knight also sat out those two minutes, which saw the Tigers surge to a 46-40 halftime lead. He had been bothered all day by an upset stomach, and developed cramps just before intermission.

Key Free Throws "Granite City threatened several times in the second half to wrest the lead from Ron Harris club. "But we missed our free throws when we had a good chance to overtake them," Sullivan added.

Ed passing which resulted in loss of possession or interceptions by Edwardsville also hurt, especially just before the end of the first half.

Sullivan has not seen tomorrow night's opponents in action this year, but Gordon Galbreath, the GCHS coach, said that if he brought back reports that Benton favors a man-to-man defense, it is not particularly tall, but does have quite a bit of weight to throw around under the boards.

"They have lost three close games this year, and Herring beat them by just five points," Sullivan reported.

Against Benton, Sullivan will probably send forwards Knight and Bob Hoffek, Pivotman Simpson and Guards Grant Takamajan and Harry Thurman, and John Grobowski and Larry Dick. Grobowski has given a low scoring back line some punch in spot appearances recently, while Dick has shown the ability to run the club on the floor and has turned in some creditable ball-handling in brief playing stints.

"I was planning to work (Larry) Thurman in as a starter as far forward in the Edwardsville game," Sullivan revealed. But Werthman, a 6-2 1/2 sophomore, has run into scholastic difficulties which make him ineligible.

"We'll have to surprise at a spot or two during the tournament," Sullivan said when asked whether his present club might sell like last season's outfit did at Centralia.

University High School Meet Begins

Granite City high school wrestlers, who had their team dual meet win string broken at 121 in Waukegan Thursday night, were engaged in the first preliminary bouts of the 16-team "A" University High School Wrestling Tournament at Normal this afternoon.

Among outstanding prep teams from across the state competing at Normal are 1960 state runner-up Pekin, tough Chicago area entrants Oak Lawn and Prospect Park, and Champaign.

GC Defending Champ

"The field is tougher than last year," remarked Warrior head wrestling coach Bill "Red" Schmitt, whose squad is the defending champion in the "A" division. Sixteen schools are also competing in the "B" division.

The tournament's second session begins at 7 o'clock tonight, and the holiday grappling meet winds up tomorrow with morning, afternoon and evening matches.

Rough Weather

Schmitt attributed the streak-breaking loss at Waukegan partly to adverse traveling conditions in the Chicago area. "We had 19 degrees below zero temperatures and 12 inches of snow, and the boys just weren't prepared for it," he remarked. "But it was good experience — now we have to start building all over again and are looking ahead to the district and sectional meets."

Four GCHS grapplers tasted defeat for the first time this season during the three-day tournament.

Madison Upends Alton 69-61, Plays Kahoks In East St. Louis Tourney

Madison surprised Alton 69-61 and Collinsville took the first step toward the successful defense of its title in the East St. Louis holiday prep basketball tournament last night by trimming Paris 71-42.

The No. 1 ranked Kahoks will tangle with the Trojans at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the tourney's second round. Veril Fletcher's team is now 8-0 for the season, and already owns an 80-65 win over Madison, recorded earlier during the Collinsville Christmas tourney.

Tonight's schedule of first-round games matches East St. Louis Lincoln and Litchfield at 7:30 and Peoria Central and East St. Louis at 9 o'clock. The consolation semi-finals are set for Wednesday afternoon, with the semi-finals in the championship bracket later Wednesday evening. Consolation and championship finals will be played Thursday night.

Madison broke a two-game losing streak in defeating Alton, and did it with balanced scoring. Forward Don Freeman came through with a productive 22-point game, his best of the year, and three other Trojan regulars hit in double figures against Alton, which now has a 5-3 mark.

Dave McClanahan's backliners, Dan Hrysko and Ken Griggs, both had good offensive nights, gathering 31 points between them, and it was this outburst which moved the Trojans from a 30-29 halftime lead to their more comfortable advantage at the end.

Larry Shoemaker, tallest third player on the floor at 6-4, led Alton with 15 points. Both clubs hit 21 free throws and committed 40 fouls, but Madison hit four more times from the field.

The Kahoks got off to a slow start against Paris and trailed by three points after one quarter of play. But behind the shooting of Bob Simpson, Collinsville overcame that deficit early in the second period and walked away with the game. Simpson had 19 points and Fred Riddle 16.

The Trojan-Redbird scoring:

Madison: Freeman 22, Griggs 20, Hrysko 11, Walker 14, Service 2, Vennersky 6; Alton: Shoemaker 15, Dancy 14, Barton 14, Stanley 9, Stock 3, Capps 4, Neal 2, Jones 0.

Post Offices Back To Normal After Busiest Holiday Rush

Local post office operations, geared for the frantic Christmas mail tempo for the first 25 days in December, went back to normal today on the heels of a record-breaking year for cancellations and parcel post, officials said.

Deliveries have been made on all but a few straggling greeting cards. All Christmas packages and parcel post was near last year's level on Sunday and Monday.

"Temporary carriers and clerks and borrowed vehicles have been released and permanent employees are resuming their work-a-day world in less hectic fashion."

The Granite City post office expanded its facilities into an other building for the rush, and has moved equipment furniture back into the main post office building.

Arthur "Pete" Metcalf, superintendent of mails, said that "despite the heavy mailing, the rush was handled smoothly and efficiently, due for the most part by early and even mailing."

MISS JUDITH LIPE, fiancée of Robert Mullenback of Spokane, Wash. The engagement of the couple is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Lipe, 1735 Pontoon road. A February wedding is planned.

Yule Feting Ended - New Year's Onrushing
The long Christmas weekend passed. Quad-Cityans today looked forward to the celebration of New Year's and on into 1961, unburdened and girded by firm resolutions, oftentimes doomed to a short life span.

A brace of public and private New Year's eve parties to honor the tradition of toasting the old and greeting the new twelfth-month are planned by clubs, organizations and individuals.

Here in revelry and merry-making and dancing it will be "off with the old, on with the new." Veterans' organizations, sportsmen's groups, bars, taverns and popular night spots are planning Saturday night events.

On the other side of the coin, churches will hold Watch Hour vigils Saturday night and greet the newborn year in song, prayer, meditation and personal resolutions to the tenets of the Christian life. And in many homes, families, friends, relatives and neighbors will gather and as the midnight hour is struck, there will be heard the old yet ever new, "Old Lang Syne," the Scottish for "long ago yet ever new."

There will be toasting here, some with alcoholic content, others in unfermented juices. The spirit of "goodwill" will dominate in the exchange of "Merry Christmas, Happy New Year" greetings on all sides, and the gladsome keynote carries over until—at least after New Year's.

Then, back to the workaday world of 1961, with its transient joys, pleasures, burdens and tasks of making a livelihood, and homemaking, going to school and operating plants, works and stores.

As the Christmas weekend approached, a reverential silence enveloped the midtown section of the Quad-Cities Saturday as dusk fell. Last-minute shoppers made the customary 11th-hour gift purchases, and as darkness fell, one turned to the homes to see the gladsome light of the sparkling Christmas trees.

The business setting was more or less appropriate to "Silent Night."

BETROTHED: Miss Sharon Gibson, whose engagement to Raymond Perlick, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perlick of Belleville, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen D. Gibson, 2916 Myrtle avenue.

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR FAMILY
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pare, 3313 Lydia lane, entertained with a traditional family dinner party at their home Christmas day.

The home was decorated for the occasion with reminders of the Yule season and the dinner table held an arrangement of evergreens and figurines.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duff, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duff and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klesh, Mr. and Mrs. John Klesh, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lynch, Mrs. Ann Moran, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pate and the host and hostess.

300 At McKinley Bridge Yule Party
Getting into the spirit of the Yuletide, McKinley Bridge gave its first Christmas party Friday and played host to around 300 persons who stopped off for doughnuts, coffee and to exchange the greetings of the holiday.

The figure was reported today by Henry McMullen, bridge manager.

The Christmas party, at the bridge office, 302 Mc street, Venice, was from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

McMullen said a lot of the "regular users" of the span were counted among the Friday guests.

"We had issued invitations to all to come," the manager pointed out. "However, Christmas rush and shopping probably held down the turn-out for the bridge's first Christmas party."

There will be toasting here, some with alcoholic content, others in unfermented juices. The spirit of "goodwill" will dominate in the exchange of "Merry Christmas, Happy New Year" greetings on all sides, and the gladsome keynote carries over until—at least after New Year's.

Then, back to the workaday world of 1961, with its transient joys, pleasures, burdens and tasks of making a livelihood, and homemaking, going to school and operating plants, works and stores.

As the Christmas weekend approached, a reverential silence enveloped the midtown section of the Quad-Cities Saturday as dusk fell. Last-minute shoppers made the customary 11th-hour gift purchases, and as darkness fell, one turned to the homes to see the gladsome light of the sparkling Christmas trees.

The business setting was more or less appropriate to "Silent Night."

300 At McKinley Bridge Yule Party
Getting into the spirit of the Yuletide, McKinley Bridge gave its first Christmas party Friday and played host to around 300 persons who stopped off for doughnuts, coffee and to exchange the greetings of the holiday.

The figure was reported today by Henry McMullen, bridge manager.

The Christmas party, at the bridge office, 302 Mc street, Venice, was from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

McMullen said a lot of the "regular users" of the span were counted among the Friday guests.

"We had issued invitations to all to come," the manager pointed out. "However, Christmas rush and shopping probably held down the turn-out for the bridge's first Christmas party."

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

SEA SCOUTS manned stations at industrial plants, handing out brown manila Goodwill Industries clothing drive collection bags to volunteer canvassers, (left to right, they are Raymond Duval and Randy Burnsworth, giving a sack to Granite City Steel Co. Guard John H. Colp. The drive has been extended to Jan. 7, due to collection difficulties caused by the weather.

Goodwill Clothing Drive Extended Through Jan. 7

The Goodwill Industries old and serviceable used clothing collection drive has been extended two weeks due to last week's weather condition which made work of volunteer canvassers particularly difficult.

The Goodwill drive, scheduled to end last Saturday, will now continue through Saturday, Jan. 7.

The drive was organized by the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, and also joined in as drive collectors are Granite City police and firemen along with wives of union members and Sea Scouts of Ship 109.

Extension of the drive to facilitate collection was announced last week by the Trades and Labor Council, representing 23,000 union workers of the Quad-Cities. Industrial plants of Venice, Madison and Granite City are cooperating with their workers by permitting Goodwill bags to be handed out to employees at their plants. Last week, the Sea Scouts passed out bags to workers at Granite City Steel Co., while the guards at Dow Metal Products Co. made sure that every one entering and leaving that plant had a bag. Mrs. Gerald Pinkerton, Mrs. James W. Barton and Mrs. Herbert Thomas, all of Granite City, were stationed at General Steel Castings Corp. while Mrs. Lill M. Barton of Mayville, and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo E. Schellenger of Granite City were on hand to pass out bags to the workers at Laclede Steel Co. in Madison. Plans to hand out Goodwill bags at American Steel and Dow Plants were called off Wednesday due to weather conditions. It was pointed out that bags will be passed out to the workers of these plants early this week.

Wives of union workers in this area are urged to take their Goodwill bags to the Labor Temple while they are downtown shopping. A Goodwill Industries truck will be on hand each day to transport the bags over to the work center in St. Louis.

Schellenger pointed out that a number of workers will be called back as soon as the bags reach the Goodwill plant in St. Louis. He said, "I am aware that our hearts are filled with the Christmas spirit and that our minds are on those who are close to us, but I would like for the people of this area to know that by giving the household items they no longer want or care for, they are creating jobs for our disabled men and women. What better Christmas present could there be than a job?"

Gas Heat Use In All-Time Peak

Illinois Power Co. reported today that consumption of natural gas for heating hit a record peak during a 24-hour period ending last Friday morning. The season's low temperature was recorded during the period.

E. G. Schmitt, local manager, said the utility's meters showed 218,400,000 cubic feet of gas was drawn from the underground storage facilities.

This crest occurred closely on the heels of the year's previous high, set Wednesday, Dec. 21, a date marking the official arrival of winter.

During the 1959-60 season, Schmitt recalled, a peak of 205,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas was consumed.

The company's storage field is located near Freeburg in St. Clair county. Windward capacity is sufficient to meet the heating requirements of 23,000 customers.

Schmitt noted that up to 6.4 million cubic feet can be stored in the Freeburg field during warmer weather, when gas demands are lower.

"To insure that residential heating needs were met," the manager explained, "the company has delivered a large industrial users who, in turn, switched to stand-by fuel."

Madison Avenue Aglow: 56 High-Powered Lights

Madison avenue, which previously could count but sparse, illuminating street lighting of comparatively low candlepower, now boasts a 10-block span illuminated by 56 high-powered mercury vapor lights.

The thoroughfare's new lighting system—extending from 14th to 24th streets—went on for the first time Thursday night.

Each of the 56 standards added their 20,000 lumen glow to the Granite City holiday scene.

Yet to be completed in the light-up of the avenue is the stretch from 24th to 30th street. Installation of fixtures and wiring was done for the Illinois Power Co. under contractual arrangements with the R. Don Electrical Co.

E. G. Schmitt, area service manager for the IPC, emphasized today that the new "white way" will serve as highway traffic accident deterrent, and facilitate night use for both vehicular and pedestrian travel.

It, he maintained, a significant safety factor.

"Heretofore," Schmitt explained, "Madison avenue was lit by 10 standards of 4000 lumens, set only at intersecting corners."

"Now, there are 56 standards, each with a candlepower rating of 20,000 lumens. Not only are there many more lights, but the installation has been staggered to afford the maximum of lighting for the highway."

The Illinois Power Co. will undertake that installation of the balance of the Madison avenue lighting.

Schmitt said work has been somewhat delayed because of reluctance of a few property owners to permit the absence of high, flight obstructing buildings, and it provided desirable areas for take-offs and landings. It too afforded an alternate "emergency" area for the "whirlybirds."

Since then, it was learned, other possible helicopter sites have been considered as well as possible more advantageous to all travelers. This, it appeared, was the reason for the delay.

The Mississippi Valley Helicopters, Inc., St. Louis, have agreed to establish regular inter-city helicopter service between the Quad-Cities and the St. Louis terminal and the Quad-Cities Helicopters.

Representatives of the St. Louis firm have surveyed the 24th and Adams street site, as well as the proposed alternate site at the intersection of 24th and Adams streets.

Under the arrangements between the airlines company and the Chamber of Commerce, travelers would be taken from here direct to the Lambert field. It would provide quick trans-verse service to St. Louis since the helicopter operating company maintains an up-to-date helicopter there.

Karandjeff noted that as soon as certain hurdles had been negotiated and details ironed-out, announcement would be made regarding inauguration of the daily flights.

He likewise pointed out that much use of the service would be made by executives and representatives of the Quad-Cities major steelmaking and other industrial plants. Consideration must be given to their convenience, he asserted.

He predicted this would follow within a matter of days.

Helicopter Flight Service In Brief Snag

Ernest A. Karandjeff, chairman of the aviation committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, said late last week that aggravating weather conditions had held up necessary preliminary work on the proposed Quad-City heliport.

A fortnight ago, announcement was made that scheduled, regular helicopter service between the Quad-Cities and the St. Louis-Lambert airport, would be inaugurated during the holidays.

The heliport, it was said at that time, would be at 24th and Adams streets, close by the old Mirrie Products Co. factory.

Site advantages, it was pointed out, included the absence of high, flight obstructing buildings, and it provided desirable areas for take-offs and landings. It too afforded an alternate "emergency" area for the "whirlybirds."

Since then, it was learned, other possible helicopter sites have been considered as well as possible more advantageous to all travelers. This, it appeared, was the reason for the delay.

"Tree of Lights" donations of cash and foodstuff made possible the all-over total of $4500. Christmas food baskets to the needy, unemployed and on relief were also donated.

Free Overtime

Under a policy to encourage and make easier "home town" Christmas shopping, the Associated Retailers & Civic Association again this year "stood treat" for overtime parking in downtown Granite City.

This afforded shoppers an extra-length, unhurried opportunity for buying.

Motorists paid for the first hour of curbside parking. When the red signal flag flared overhead, parking policemen fed an additional coin into the machine. The retailers supplied the nickels.

"It's 'Worth it,'" declared the association.

College-Self Mischief

An auto driven by Bill Osborn, 29, of 3014 N. Meade road, slid into the left side of a car operated by a first Monday in December.

Thursday at College and 2nd streets, Venice, Police said the Osborn auto was going east and making a right turn. Its left front fender was damaged.
